The Shanghai Mercury contains an article demands made by the engineers on the coasting steamers at the time of the threatened strike ten or twelve days ago. According to our contemporary, engineers were merly paid at the following rates-Ohief Engineers, $185 a month, and after four years' service $200; Second Engineers, of the necessity for a change in the law $125; and Third, $95. The three big admitting of Crown prosecution in case of coasting companies united four years ago and reduced the rates to the following:-Chief Engineers, $150 (some $200) Second $100; and Third, $70 a month. ' When the alteration was brought in,' says our contemporary, 'it was done in a very diplomatic manner. No man's pay was actually reduced, but each man of the two lower grades on promotion to the higher had to accept the new scale of pay, and all men newly joining came in at the lower tariff. This year we are told the Eugineers held several meetings at their Institute, and it was decided to again address a latter to the owners and agents of the companies. This they have done, and in that communication they asked that a Chief Engineer's pay should be, on joining or becoming Chief, $175 per month, after two years $185, and after five years $200; Swond Engineer $120, and Third $85. temporary is rather ambiguous with regard to the outcome of the action taken by the ongineers. The China Merchants are said to have offered the following turns:-Chiefs, $150 a month, with an increase of $35 after three years' service; Swend, $120; Third, $35. The above anecdote, we description would scarcely be justified by the experiment Col. Beaumont was willing have reason to believe, may be taken as to undertake. I have, as I am sure the Governor had, every belief that Col. Beaumont did possess very considerable scientific knowledge, and it is quite possible these attempted it, but at the same ti me bear ing in mind the different expensive objects that we are now undertaking in this Colony I did not feel myself justified on the scanty information I had to ask him to undertake this business. The minute which has been read to you proposes that he should be paid his expenses for the fortnight he was here, and of course such cannot be refused, as he remained at the request of the Governor in order to draw up the report about the blasting of these rocks, and the amount he mentions does not seem anything very extravagant. The Governor in a minute he wrote previous to his departure stated that Col. Beaumont would also expect something for the report he drew up. Ool. Beanmont has suggested that for this report—it is a pretty lengthy one, and contains a certain amount of scientific knowledge-he should be paid the sum of fifty pounds. That the Finance Committee will no doubt carefully examine, and they will recommend to the Council such sum as they think in the circumstances Col. Beaumont should receive for drawing up this report. While referring to this subject I will just allude to another one. One of my principal reasons for not asking Col. Beaumont to undertake the experiment have been speaking of was that at present we have a considerable number of big works going on in the colony upon which a large expenditure of money will be necessary. Among others is one of which the Council has already heard, namely, the building of a new ball-room at Governconsidered last year a sum of $25,0 0, I Since then the Surveyor General has gone into the question of how much it would cost, and he states that in his estimation the cost would considerably excoed the sum of $25,000; in fact, the estimated cost is $40,000. the Governor expressed a desire before his departure that the Council He was anxious, not so much on his own should be made acquainted with this fact, account as on account of the community generally, that this ballroom should be built. There can be no doubt that the acballs and large cutertainments is not sufficient, and that it is very expedient sum of only $25,000 was mentioned in the estimates of last year, the Governor did not not like this ball from to be commenced without its being intimated to the Council that the cost would be considerably in excess of the amount in the estimates. The Council will not be asked now for a vote for the increased expenditure, as it is not likely that the amount expended this year will exceed the sum mentioned in the estimates, but should the ballroom be commenced before the end of the year it probably will be necessary to include the balance in the estimates for next year. But it was necessary to mention the matter now that by the Governor with reference to matters not be commenced or proceeded with which that Mr Ryrie has consented to be reappoint- | require a larger sum of money to be expended, and I am artite sure that with the ed on them than this Council has voted future of the same service to us as is now aware of the probable cost of this from the duty of attending this Connoil on to examine them, to show the plans and The votes were referred to the Finance

THE MAGISTRATES ORDINANCE 1890.

The Acting Attorney general, in ineving the second reading of this bulky Bill, said would deal with it as shortly as possible. The reasons for its introduction were not far to seek. It had long been acknowledged by lawyers and by the general publie that the law at present in force dealing with the procedure and practice before magistrates has been and is in an unsatisancedote, in case the writer means The Governor was naturally very auxious, and the procedure improved by what is gentlemen acting on the motives we and he requested Col. This was open to very sprious, objection. because judges of the Soureme Court were called upon to decide questions of fact without seeing the witnesses or having the materials before them for really and properly judging. The present measure was an A meeting of the Figure Committee adaptation of what was known as the Justices's Act 1850 in reference to summay offences and indictable offences, and of the Summary Jurisdiction Act 1876. As regards appeals the Bill was a reproduction of the present law as far as regarded appeals on questions of law, but a new system was adopted with reference to appeals on questions of fact. The ordinance Beaumont came here with sufficient introwas divided into nine parts. The first duction to the Governor. dealt with preliminary matters point in it he would refer to was the special provision that the ordinance would not offect any special procedure in any other ordinance not repealed, such as the provisions in the Chinese Extradition Ordinance passed last year. Part 2 related to the constitution of magistrates. As regards police and marine inagistrates the law was left as present, but as regards justices of the peace there were some alterations that were really more apparent then real. 1875 when the provision he had alluded to was passed, justices of the peace had not sat and acted in the same way as magistrates. When a necessity arose. owing to a pressure of business which might very easily happen when there was a riot and numerous offences, the practice had been for the Governor to direct two justices of the pence to sit together and act together as a Magistrate, The present ordinance gave expression to the practice, and it was his intention when the Bill was in Commites to move the addition of a clause pro- noon 'to discuss the programme submitted viding that the power to issue wart to H.
